Guidelines for Printing, Distribution and/or Translating S.L.A.A. Literature

1. Only the Board of Trustees (BOT) or the General Manager (GM) of Fellowship-Wide Services, Inc. (FWS), as legal representatives of S.L.A.A., may authorize another publishing center to print S.L.A.A. Conference Approved literature. Reasonable adherence to the foregoing principles is a prerequisite to being granted such authority. Even then, S.L.A.A. Fellowship Wide Services, Inc. retains the original copyright and may withdraw permission whenever it is ascertained that the best interests of S.L.A.A. are not being served.
2. Requests for permission to reprint or translate S.L.A.A. literature should be made directly to S.L.A.A. Fellowship-Wide Services, Inc. In so doing, please give complete information on what you wish to translate and/or print how you plan to distribute the literature and finance the operation by filling out the enclosed RFI Form.
3. Your requests will be reviewed by the BOT or a subcommittee thereof. If all is in order, permission to proceed with translations or to reprint and distribute will be granted. You will also be informed of the exact wording of the copyright credit that must be included in each book or pamphlet. The original copyright is retained by F.W.S., Inc. and permission may be withdrawn on 30 days notice any time the BOT feel that to do so is in the best interest of S.L.A.A. as a whole. It is not anticipated that this action would be necessary.
4. Literature published should carry the S.L.A.A. logo and indicate approval by the Conference.
5. As a publishing venture is both expensive and time-consuming, it is important to establish, in advance, what literature is really needed and whether the demand will be sufficient to make the venture financially feasible.
6. The quality of the literature in design, paper, and printing, should, to the extent possible, reflect the quality of the S.L.A.A. message that it contains.
7. The F.W.S. Board of Trustees, through Fellowship-Wide Services, Inc. retains ownership of all literature that it produces. It hires the printer, pays printing costs, and handles distribution.
8. It is suggested that the amount of literature be limited in the beginning.
9. If there is a publishing center, it should be self-supporting to conform to S.L.A.A.'s Tradition of self-support and to assure S.L.A.A.'s continuing ownership. No money should be accepted from any non-S.L.A.A. person or agency regardless of the kindness and sincerity of the offer. Thus, the publishing will be owned and operated by S.L.A.A. itself.
